

God made it; God kept it; God loves it

Annular eclipse taken from International Space Station

God made it; God kept it; God loves it

In one of the brightest parts of Milky Way lies a nebula where some of the oddest things occur. NGC 3372, known as the Great Nebula in Carina, is home to massive stars and changing nebula. The entire Carina Nebula spans over 300 light years and lies about 7,500 light-years away in the constellation of Carina.

God made it; God kept it; God loves it

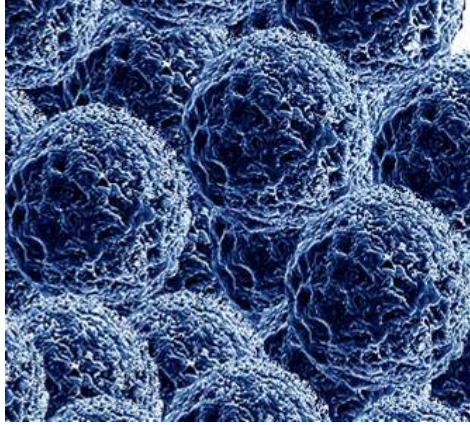

Super moon over Rio de Janeiro

God made it; God kept it; God loves it

God made it; God kept it; God loves it

Nano particles via electron microscope

God made it; God kept it; God loves it

